OVERVIEW OF RESULTS

ECONOMIC REVIEW

After five years of significant macroeconomic volatility, the global environment seems to have stabilised in 2013 and is poised to lift off over the next two years. The prospects for developed economies in particular have therefore improved, with the USA leading the pack. However, macroeconomic risks have not disappeared. It simply means that policymakers have managed to buy enough time to implement much needed structural changes to ensure the current stability remains sustainable and eventually turns into a more virtuous macroeconomic growth cycle.

This rebound in the global environment has manifested itself in a recovery in the diamond sector, hence buoyancy in Botswana's GDP growth from 3.2% in the first quarter of 2013 to 7.4% in the second quarter and 5.9% by third quarter of 2013. In December 2013 inflation slowed to 4.1% from 5.8% registered in June 2013, thus remaining within the Bank of Botswana target range of 3%-6%.

In the year 2013, Bank of Botswana cut the bank rate by a total of 200 basis points, causing the lowest interest rate environment seen in 20 years, thereby making loans more affordable for the consumer. This reprieve in interest rates led to an expansion in credit growth driven by the Consumer segment. Annual credit growth in this segment remained high at 26.7% compared to total credit growth of 18.2%. Credit extension to businesses grew at a lackluster growth rate of only 7.3%.

CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL POSITION

Tight liquidity conditions in the market led to total market deposits held by commercial banks increasing modestly by 2.8%. Despite this, the Bank has been able to achieve a 7% growth in deposits from customers thereby achieving a growth rate that is faster than the market. This growth was driven mainly by transactional accounts in the Corporate segment, in line with the Bank's funding strategy.

With credit growth showing a declining trend, the Bank registered an impressive advances growth rate of 18%. This growth was achieved through Group Scheme Lending (Consumer segment) as well as term loans to the Public sector segment. Both these books exhibit lower credit risk and hence this area of growth is aligned with the Bank's conservative approach with respect to unsecured lending particularly to the Consumer segment.

With the loan-to-deposit ratio being maintained at more than acceptable levels and focus being placed on higher yielding assets, the level of investment in Bank of Botswana Certificates over the period has declined by 50%.

In a period where liquidity conditions are tight and credit growth is on a downward path, the Bank has managed to achieve a 6% growth in total balance sheet.

CONSOLIDATED INCOME STATEMENT PERFORMANCE

Notwithstanding the 18% growth in advances to customers, interest income registered a 6% growth. This less-than-proportional growth in interest income relative to advances is due to the impact of the rate cuts over the period as well as the conservative lending approach adopted by the Bank which has resulted in growth in the secured portfolios at lower yield levels. However, ongoing management of interest expense through lower cost of funding made further savings, thereby achieving net interest income growth of 10%.

The health of the advances book has been maintained over the period through sound credit risk approaches, reinforced by robust collection strategies. This culminated in a 13% decline in the impairments of advances, reflecting a good performance in the current environment.

Increased costs associated with the introduction of new electronic channels as well as efforts to move customers away from the more expensive traditional banking structures to cheaper electronic channels, has led to a modest growth in non-interest income of 4%. This is pleasing as the strategy of the Bank has, for the past few years, been to move customers to cheaper banking channels.

This drive to bring increased convenience to customers has resulted in the launch of a variety of new products during the half year under review. The period saw the launch of the prepaid electricity platform as well as the rolling out Rand dispensing ATMs and slim line mini ATMs. This has called for an investment in both infrastructure and people thereby leading to an increase in operating costs and employee benefit costs which increased by 13% and 18% respectively. The Bank's cost to income ratio remains at acceptable levels and well below the industry norm.

CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Group's objectives when managing capital, which is a broader concept than the "equity" on the face of the statement of financial position, are:

- To comply with the capital requirements set by the regulators of the banking markets (the Central Bank);
- To safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern so that it can continue to provide returns for the shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders; and
- To maintain a strong capital base to support the development of its business.

The Group continues to manage its capital in line with the Board's approved capital management framework and Basel II which is to be adopted in Botswana in 2015 with the parallel run being carried out from January 2014.

The purpose of the framework is to create objectives, policies and principles to ensure that book capital (shareholders funds or Net Asset Value) regulatory capital and economic capital are optimised.

Economic capital is defined as the capital which the Group must hold, commensurate with its risk profile, to give comfort to stakeholders that it will be able to discharge its obligations to third parties and would continue to operate as a going concern in accordance with an indicated degree of certainty even under severe stress conditions.

Tests have been performed and will continue to be performed on a regular basis to assess if the Group is appropriately capitalised from an economic risk point of view. The regulatory capital requirements are strictly observed when managing economic capital.

The Group's capital adequacy ratio, which excludes the dividend reserve, has been maintained at 19.6% as at 31 December 2013, and is above the Group's internal limit as well as the 15% ratio required by Bank of Botswana.

In line with the growth in assets, the tough trading environment going forward, the impact of the introduction of Basel II, and the effect that these factors will have on the capital adequacy ratio, the Directors believe that it is appropriate to continue with the prudent approach to capital management.

The Directors propose an interim dividend of 5.0 thebe per share.
